“While this award recognizes me as an individual,” said David, “It would not have happened without the incredible team at Norima that consistently delivers high-quality work for our clients. I’m extremely proud of our team and what we have accomplished together.”

David’s career progression and achievements, as well as his love for golf and his family, have been detailed in an article published in the UM Today News from the Faculty of Science. He is humbled to be in the company of such accomplished individuals who are also being honoured today.

“I can’t believe it’s over 25 years ago that I walked into Machray Hall for the first time,” said David. “I’m very proud to be a UofM alumnus.”
